

Background

American Youth Football is the largest and fastest growing youth football and cheerleading governing body in the world. The nearest conference is Blackstone Valley Youth Football Conference (BYYFC) based in Rhode Island. BYYFC consists of sixteen (16) youth football and cheerleading associations and is responsible for scheduling games between the associations. The conference is expanding into southeastern Massachusetts with the addition of the New Bedford Whalers Association and the Upper Cape Spartans (UCS) Association.

A provision of membership into the conference was that the UCS would agree to a two (2) year travel schedule beginning with the 2013 season. There are some associations within the BYYFC who may be willing to travel to the Cape to allow the UCS to have home games, however; they are not required by the conference to travel.

The UCS Board of Trustees agreed to the terms in order to bring American Youth Football and Cheerleading to Cape Cod.

Travel

The distances and times traveled are comparable to other youth football and cheerleading organizations in the area. On the following page, you will find a breakdown of each team within the BYYFC along with distances to teams that are governed by another youth football and cheerleading organization. On average, you can expect to drive about 10 minutes longer.
